CAREER FAIR

Held every spring, this professional marketplace is an event where students connect with companies, network with recruiters, and explore internships or job opportunities. It's a great chance for businesses to meet talented individuals ready to contribute.

3RD YEAR INTERNSHIP

Five to six-month full-time internship for individual students. Students work on-site (minimum three, ideally five, days per week) and gain hands-on experience. While companies define most tasks, some assignments are required by the university.

GRADUATION INTERNSHIP

A five to six-month full-time internship where students work as entry-level professionals. Companies define the responsibilities, with no predefined school assignments. Students are expected to contribute professionally, ideally working on-site for at least three, preferably five, days per week.

RESEARCH THESIS PROJECT

In their final year, students complete a four to five-month individual research project, similar to a thesis. While they choose their own topic, they can also explore research questions proposed by companies. These projects are typically part-time and remote, with the possibility of guidance from our research center.
