ABOUT

HAN UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES

HAN is a large university of applied sciences in the east of the Netherlands, near the German border. From its campuses in Arnhem and Nijmegen, it provides professional education to over 37,000 students. Around 1,500 of these are international students. They come from all over the world to follow a bachelor, master or exchange program in English.

This brochure is about the exchange programs of the School of Education. They are offered at HAN's Nijmegen campus.

NIJMEGEN

Nijmegen is the oldest town in the Netherlands and a beautiful, old university city. It is surrounded by woodlands, castles and polders. Just walk a few minutes in any direction and you can enjoy nature and history at its best. Nijmegen has just about everything a student could wish for: museums, theatres, lively cafés, excellent sports facilities and a trendy nightlife.

CAMPUS NIJMEGEN

You will find everything you need at our campus: extensive libraries, good IT facilities, modern lecture halls, high-tech labs and places to socialize with classmates. HAN has a wireless network available which allows you to work on your laptop anywhere on campus.

Campus Nijmegen has its own canteen, where you can get drinks, snacks and warm meals. There are several cafes, where you can wind down with fellow students after a day of studying.

Want to keep fit during your studies? Play your favorite sport or even try a new sport? There are lots of student sports in Nijmegen. Many of them offer very affordable prices and students from HAN often get a discount.
